Matrix Repatterning®

Matrix Repatterning® is a breakthrough treatment system, developed by Dr. George Roth. It allows the practitioner to systematically and objectively address structural imbalance at the molecular level. It is currently the subject of a major study by a leading Harvard researcher.

- Clinically-proven
- Gentle and Safe
- Precise and Objective
- Provides lasting structural correction

"Matrix Repatterning is an easily learned method based on sound scientific principles. It is a simple mechanical method for diagnosing and safely treating a variety of musculoskeletal malfunctions that will be useful for clinicians. I have seen it in action and experienced it myself. It works!"
